ABOUT NARPO

The National Association of Retired Police Officers (N.A.R.P.O.) has existed since 1919 and is the only organisation concerned solely with retired police officers. Its objects are:-

To safeguard the rights of members and to promote measures for their welfare with particular regard to pensions.'

The Association functions through local branches and the National Executive Committee elected at annual conference. Local branches enjoy independence from central control in providing social and welfare services to members.

Regular meetings are held with the Chief Officer and Superintendents Associations and the Police Federation on matters of common interest. N.A.R.P.O. is recognised by the Home Office and Police Authorities and has representatives on the Board of Trustees of the National Police Fund and the Police Dependents' Trust. Regular meetings are held with Home Office officials and there is access to the Minister of State.

The Public Service Pensioners' Council representing retired Civil Servants, Local Government Staffs and many others was founded by N.A.R.P.O. The Council's activities have resulted in the index linking of public service pensions.

Only N.A.R.P.O. can represent retired officers and widows at national level and an advisory service on police pensions and associated matters is available to members.

N.A.R.P.O. News is a colour printed magazine, published by the National Executive Committee, dealing with a wide range of social and welfare matters affecting members. Each Branch publishes a local Newsletter giving details of local matters affecting members of that particular branch. Both these publications are mailed free of charge to every member quarterly.

You are cordially invited to enrol by completing this form and returning it to the Branch Secretary at the address given on Page 1
